Anne Fuchs is an internationally acclaimed opera singer and public affairs professional. Her performances have been noted for their “lively, fresh” nature (Oldenburgischer Zeitung) and she has been the recipient of many awards, including the Metropolitan Opera Regional Council Finalist award, which she received at the age of 20. Since that time, Anne has performed in operas and concerts around the world, now calling Indiana home. She is a leading soprano with the Indianapolis Opera and engages new audiences for the company as a community liaison and “Opera Advocate.”

Anne is also a seasoned public relations professional with extensive experience in government and the law. She has served in the administrations of New York State Governor David A. Paterson in Manhattan, the New Jersey Office of the Public Defender, and notably in the administration of former Mayor Pete Buttigieg in South Bend before and during his bid for the presidency.

Currently, Anne works extensively with judges, legislators, civic leaders, and youth in her role as Director of Communications for the Court of Appeals of Indiana. She has the privilege of running the Court’s traveling oral argument program, Appeals on Wheels, which won the 2023 Sandra Day O’Connor Award for the Advancement of Civics Education under her leadership. She was subsequently named a 2024 Mitch Daniels Leadership Fellow for her work as a “statewide change agent in Indiana.”

Anne is passionate about using the human voice to convey authentic messages passionately and persuasively. Her extensive experiences as an opera singer, performer, and public relations professional have led her to develop her “VoiceFox” coaching series, which empowers professionals to elevate their speaking and presentation skills using the secrets of opera singers.
